רַבִּי אֶלְעָזָר בֶּן שַׁמוּעַ אָמַר, יְהִי כְבוֹד תַּלְמִידָךְ חֲבִיב עֲלֶיךָ כְּשֵׁלָךְ, וְכְבוֹד חֲבֵרְךָ כְּמוֹרָא רַבָּךְ, וּמוֹרָא רַבָּךְ כְּמוֹרָא שְׁמַיִם:

Rabbi Elazar ben Shammua said: let the honor of your student be as dear to you as your own, and the honor of your colleague as the reverence for your teacher, and the reverence for your teacher as the reverence of heaven.

(Pirkei Avot, 4:12)

Cheating Part II

Teacher Reflections

- If there are any teachers who felt their voices weren't heard at last Town Hall, now is a time to share.

Reflections

- A lot of classes had follow up conversations about last week's Town Hall
- What is something that you have learned from these conversations? Has your perspective changed?

A Different Perspective

- Last week, there seemed to be a general sentiment of students feeling that cheating was somewhat justified and teachers disagreeing
- Are there any students who felt more on the side of the teachers?

Responsibility

- In what ways are both parties (teachers and students) responsible for cheating situations?

Solutions

- What are some ways we can fix this problem and reduce cheating in a way that is fair to both teachers and students?

Open Notes

- What are the pros and cons of requiring all tests to be open-notes?
