

Town Hall #13

Freshmen Town Hall!

Outfit of the Week

Boris and Dallas for twin day 🙌

Meme of the Week

by Ariel Shapiro

Darren: guess

who I met?

Vort of the Week

מראית עין – appearance to the eye

Actions that seem against halacha from the perspective of others but in reality are completely allowed are still forbidden because of the impression they leave on others.

Shalhevet

Balancing Individuality & Community

...

Initial Questions

- As Shalhevet students, do we automatically represent our school? Do we also represent our community?
 - What does that mean?
- Should the school have a say on aspects of your life outside of school?
 - If so, how much of a say?
 - Where do we draw the line between our lives as students and our personal lives?
- Why might these rules be for the better?

Communal Expectations

- As members of the Shalhevet community, do we have responsibilities beyond our academic lives at Shalhevet?
 - What might those responsibilities be?
- How should we represent our school to the community?
- Should we be careful about negatively representing our community to the outside world?

Social Media

- Do we represent the school, even on our own social media accounts?
- Should the school be able to monitor what students post on social media?
 - How might that be a breach of our personal privacy?
 - What if the student has Shalhevet '25 in their bio?
- When might the school need to interfere? Should they be allowed to interfere?

Tik Tok

- Should students be allowed to film and post Tik Toks from inside the school?
 - Why or why not?
 - How would you feel if you weren't allowed to?
- If so, are there limits to the type of content that can be posted during school?